

Frank John Zimmerman, MD

Class of 1982

Inducted November 17, 2005

- 2003-Present Director of Electrophysiology Services, Department of Pediatrics, St. Francis Hospital, Peoria and the University of Illinois School of Medicine, Peoria
- 2000-Present Attending Physician in Pediatric Cardiology at six Chicago area Hospitals;
Director of Electrophysiology Services, Department of Pediatrics, University of Chicago Children's Hospital;
Assistant Professor in Pediatrics and Medicine, University of Chicago Children's Hospital, University of Chicago
- 1997-2000 Director of Electrophysiology Services, Department of Pediatrics, St. Louis Children's Hospital;
Instructor in Pediatrics, St. Louis Children's Hospital, Washington University School of Medicine
- 1998 American Heart Association Research Grant Award; National Institute for Health Research Grant Award
- 1996 Idiss Award for Pediatric Cardiology Research

"Come to school with your eyes wide open. There are so many experiences and friendships and life lessons that you will draw upon later in your life."